INSTRUCTIONS

STEP 1:

To create this A7-sized card, cut one card front, 6" wide X 7" tall and one card back, 5" wide X 7" tall from the Stamper's Select White cardstock. With the 6" wide front piece, score 1/2" in on the long 7" sides. Next, die cut the bow from the Elegant Edge set in the center of the card front, between the scored lines. Once the bow is die cut, cut down the center, using a paper cutter.

STEP 2:

Splatter the front of the two card front pieces using Kuretake Gansai Tambi watercolor paint using a watercolor fan brush. Use dark brown, terracotta, and teal colors. Die cut another bow from teal cardstock and set aside. Attach the teal ribbon bow pieces on the card front.

STEP 3:

Die cut from cardstock the cinnamon sticks (white), berries (white), pine branches and sticks (Dark Chocolate), holly leaves (Aqua Mist, Hawaiian Shores, Dark Chocolate and a natural white cardstock)

STEP 4:

Attach the die cuts to the front of the card, allowing the teal bow loops to show. Using the remaining teal bow elements, line up the card front gatefold pieces over the card back and attach the bow elements, gluing them to the back piece. Tip: Once a few pieces are attached, use the teal cutout as a guide to attach the rest of the bow pieces. It is much easier to do it this way. :)

STEP 5:

Fold the tabs on the card front and attach heavy-duty, double-sided tape to the flaps. Cover any elements from the front that show color bleed such as the cinnamon sticks for a clean finish inside the card.

STEP 6:

Stamp inside the card, two sentiments from the "This is Big Sentiments: HoHoHo stamp set. Attach a few holly leaves and berries above the sentiments. Attach the flaps of the card front to the card back to complete the card.
