INSTRUCTIONS

STEP 1:

Cut an A2 sized panel of Lilac Grace card stock and attach the trellis piece using liquid glue. I used the Cover Plate: Trellis die and Amethyst Allure card stock. Add a little bit of Royal Velvet ink around the edges for added dimension and detail.

STEP 2:

Cut a rectangle of white card stock slightly larger than the opening of the postal frame. Add some ink around the edges and some ink splatter. Stamp the postage images and then add the frame using liquid glue.

STEP 3:

Die cut all of the pieces you will need For the flowers and leaves. Use blender, brushes, and ink pads to add the color. Use liquid glue to adhere them together.

STEP 4:

Add the flowers to the postal frame and the birthday sentiment at the bottom and attach it to the base panel using foam squares.

Tuck leaves in here and there using liquid glue and foam squares until you are satisfied with the arrangement.

Add the main panel to a top folding card base. Add glitter to the flowers and sequins around the frame.
